

Lloyd Banks Jr. Biography

Lloyd Banks Jr. is the current County Supervisor representing the citizens of District 2. He completed his bachelor's degree at Norfolk State University and his master's degree in Business Administration from Old Dominion University.

Lloyd was commissioned as an officer in the United States Coast Guard where he specialized in budgeting, procurement, and finance for over two decades prior to his retirement from the federal government.

Lloyd is currently employed by the University of Virginia where he manages Graduate Financial Aid within the College of Arts and Sciences.

Lloyd and his wife Tracy have 11 children.